We are the flame, the burning brand of youth . . .

Our world is one of greenspun dreams, where love meets love and hope finds hope, and learning wings its way to the silent, fiery heart.

Aiken

The flame is lent to the quiet whimsy of time.

*And breathless memory hears the whisper of waning brightness say,
"This was the Spirit of '66 . . ."*

*Miss Aiken,
I guess you think I'm a little crazy, but I don't. I really enjoyed the discussions we had although I was usually outnumbered. Have a good summer and see you next year.*

To accomplishment,
    hope,
        pride,
            dreams,
passions bound in a word,
Broughton, and translated in a word, Spirit, do we dedicate this Latipac. May futurity find within themselves something of our Spirit of '66, and marvel and build so that earth be more certain.

Administration

The men and women of Broughton's staff were young this year. But a little older than we were, just enough older. Having walked, or run, or fought, to get a little farther along the road, they could tell us, the new runners, a bit more about what we were seeking. They prodded; they pushed; they asked. And our cloudy dreams were neatened and cleaned; we knew more about how to seek, how to use what we found. Our teachers taught us that we must build and never denied that destruction is sometimes necessary: They asked only that we test the old and think before blindly destroying, that we be ready to rebuild as soon as we had torn down. For them, sometimes with anger, sometimes with resignation, sometimes with love, we worked. We had put their words into boxes, or so we thought. But today we will open the boxes, and we will carry them with us always. And we will show the words, with pride, to all the world.

JOSEPH QUINCY HOLLIDAY, Principal

"Through all the pages of your history, it is hoped that you

Reflect with pride.
Plan with confidence.
Achieve with patience.
Serve with gladness.
Steer by faith."

JAMES WATSON HOLYFIELD, Assistant Principal

"A tremendous challenge has been offered to our Sophomores and Juniors by the Class of '66. The entire faculty, student body and community are proud of the outstanding achievements and contributions our Seniors have made to a remarkable year."

COUNSELORS: Mrs. Hendrix, Mr. Johnson, Mrs. Sandling, Mr. Blackburn.

Always there to guide and direct, the deans at Broughton are an important part of the school. Somehow they manage to counsel the students, helping them to choose courses, colleges, and careers; to advise and console those with personal problems; and to keep attendance records. They help with the testing programs which help them to know the students and the students to know themselves better.

The deans relate the students to the administration; they give of their time and talents to help the Broughton student adjust to life. They prepare us to take that final step from high school into the world. With unselfish devotion, experienced perspectives, and genuine concern they help us. They excel in their work; we are grateful to them.

IN THE OFFICE: Mrs. Stephenson, Mrs. Walker, Miss Suggs.

The office staff works diligently to keep the school running smoothly. Administration, teachers, and students rely on the work of these capable people. They deal with money, records, correspondence, and grades accurately and efficiently. They are the willing ones who keep, organize, and send our transcripts to colleges. Cheerfully they answer the telephone, answer questions, and still find time to do the other less noticeable things that keep the school in working order.

Intriguing beyond conception are the "machines." They keep our grades, absences, and the keys to our fate. Our admiration goes to Mr. Small who keeps them clicking and humming. The IBM machines now inhabit two rooms, and the student body and faculty still experience awe and wonder at the sight of them.

C L A S S E S

Miss Aiken - you've been the greatest this year -
I really do appreciate everything you've done for me this year in history. I know I've given you plenty of trouble this year, but I'm glad you put up with me and stayed my friend - Tommy Bello

Seniors

The Senior, sadder than the others, is set into a pattern. He studies this way, plays that way, has three friends. But time begins to catch him, and he is not so sure in his own way. He relaxes, begins to accept himself, then works and plays all the harder. His Droughton hours get shorter. He gives so final assemblies, to last dances, to the beach. He is afraid about college and career. Will he be accepted? Will he be successful? Will he be ready? He worries until he can no longer worry. He is a victim of "Senior Slump." But then he realizes he will survive, and grow, and reach at least some of his goals. He looks at everyone as he passes down the hall; he runs his hands again along the stair walls, he handles his textbooks kindly as he turns them in. He says glad and lonely good-byes to teachers and students. The Senior, proud and older, turns on his back, closes his locker door, leaves Droughton High School, and begins again.

Juniors

The Brighton Junior is sometimes invisible. He is in-between, but he is strong. From a Sophomore beginning he builds onto his dreams and tears them down and then rebuilds again and again. He is angry; angered yet unangered, working still harder than he has before. Lost in the maze of grades and honors and attention and opportunities. First programs on college and careers prove serious planning upon him, though he does not want to be serious. But he is ready for discipline now. And ready for fun. The angry Junior begins to find places of greater responsibility and worth. He begins to know Seniors, to be respected. And he knows that in this year, in this angry and hungry time, he has grown much. Not great, not so intolerant, not so impatient as before, he will be a Senior, and again at the top. The anger has become intensity, and there are more questions, questions larger than before.

JUNIORS

Not sophomores . . . In between . . . New Advisor . . . Kidding the "youngsters" . . . Class Rings . . . Drivers' licenses . . . Miss Penney . . . Helping families at Christmas, again . . . Exams, again . . . Surprise—Snow . . . Three in Queen's Court . . . Pizza! . . . Listening to the Alma Mater . . . Knowing—only one more year.

Sophomores

The Sophomore, after the fall—he is but small now and at the bottom. But he seeks to experience. He joins, he reads, he watches, he studies. Through world history, and biology, and algebra, he maintains his questions. He is awake, or seems to be, because he is new—he high school, at harder work, even to himself. From junior high school he brings patterns and hopes; he molds them further at thoughtless. He keeps looking among the DIM cards and the numbers and the faces. He searches in the library and the textbooks. He asks in his classes. He hopes to belong. He finds some answers, but only some. Tomorrow he will ask again. And he will find new work, new friends, new questions. The Sophomore is a long-suffering.

Organizations

Broughton's Organizations—a helpful underground, a network of responsibilities, supporting the action-framework of a school. Students together, aided by advisors, effecting changes by service projects in enterprises, to inform, to help. The member sells tickets and food, he attends meetings and pays faithfully his dues, he gives of his time to be a part of something more powerful than himself. The leaders direct him; and the advisors lead the leaders. But all in each club, each council, have become workers, equals. They give that someone may learn. The Organizations are an attempt to help make happiness and improvement of souls and bodies at Broughton. Have there — success.

Sponsored by the Raleigh Kiwanis Club, the Key Club is a service organization. Members are chosen on the basis of leadership and service to the school. The Key Club strives to develop initiative and leadership, to serve Broughton and the community, to prepare for useful citizenship, and to set and follow high ideals. A scholarship is awarded at the end of the school year with money provided from the club. This year, under the advice and consent of Mr. Baker, the members have operated a concession stand at basketball games and participated in community projects in addition to making several changes in the club constitution.

1965-1966: A year for the record, a time set apart. With the realization of this Broughton year, the LATIPAC Staff members have been at work to capture in pictures and in print the Broughton Spirit of '66.

Obtaining ads (!), planning picture schedules, writing copy, drawing up lay-outs, typing, covering school activities, and "tying up the bundle" are some of the main functions of the Staff. This venture is headed by the Editor and Business Manager who are elected in the spring prior to their senior year by the journalism classes. The staff includes the core and interest journalism students.

Each year the journalism classes put forth much time and effort to publish a paper that will provide students with news of Broughton and and a paper that will be enjoyable to read. The members of the class solicit subscriptions from different Raleigh merchants to help pay for the printing of the paper. The core journalism class meets every day during seventh period and the interest classes meet three days each week. Together these classes work together to produce the Hi-Times.

To provide Broughton Students with a forum for their creative efforts is one of the purposes of Winged Words. The club which meets at 3:35 on Wednesday in Room 210 holds discussions concerning contributed poetry and prose. They judge the poetry and prose for their merit as literature and not for the personal attributes of their authors. The selected works are included in the Winged Words Magazine which is published every spring.

Anyone who is interested in public speaking or debating is eligible for membership in the NFL. The meetings are scheduled in Room 308 on the first and third Thursdays of each month. To stimulate interest in public speaking and to debate in an organized manner are two of the main objectives of the club. One of the honors to be earned is membership in the National NFL. Members must earn twenty-five points in public speaking to be eligible for this honor. Several Broughton members have passed those requirements.

The Broughton Little Theater has had an especially enthusiastic group of followers. There were over a hundred paying members, and the enthusiasm is evident in the calibre of plays they presented. In December, there was the Rodger's and Hammerstein's Musical, "Annie Get Your Gun." Later in the spring, the Little Theater presented a play called "Arsenic and Old Lace."

The Golden Masquers, an honorary society for members of the Little Theater, has had a talented group. It is made up of those who are especially outstanding in the Broughton theater guild.

This year was the second year of operation for the Broughton Fellowship of Christian Athletes club. They met on every first and third Tuesday evening of each month in the boys' gym. The members set their purpose "to confront athletes and coaches, and through them the youth of our nation, with the challenge and adventure of following Christ, participating in His Church and serving Him through our vocations." A branch of the FCA at North Carolina State University, the boys participate in many activities. They gave talks to youth groups; at Christmas they sponsored two boys; they sold jelly in order to raise money to send members to a summer conference held at Black Mountain which is the climax of the year. Their main objectives this year were to orient junior high school boys in the club and to promote more interest in the FCA program. In the spring the group held a retreat at Presbyterian Point for all boys interested in the organization.

Audio-Visual Club

Started as an aid to teaching, the A. V. Club was organized in 1957. It is responsible for films, filmstrips, tapes, records, and other equipment. Today the responsibilities of the club have grown to include sound and other necessary supplies for ball games and other athletic events, school assemblies, dances, and any other functions that require A. V. equipment.

The boys who take A. V. perform many much needed services to the school at the expense of their own time. We have them to thank for Christmas music piped over the Broughton grounds during the Christmas season.

Science Club

The thirty-five selected members of the Science Club meet on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. The purpose of the organization is sixfold: to learn to perfect skills in science; to increase knowledge of science; to provide learning fitted to the interests and abilities of the individual; to increase enthusiasm in technique; to render service to the community and nation; and to further the program of Science Clubs of America.

To provide challenging musical experiences for the vocally gifted student beyond the regular high school programming experiences is the purpose of the Ensemble. The main social activity is the official picnic which is held every spring. There are thirty-two members who meet everyday fourth period in Room 220. This club has received countless awards and honors. The ensemble sings for civic clubs, State conventions, and professional meetings of all kinds during the year. The money made during these engagements goes toward the N. C. State Choral Festival in Greensboro which is held annually. Also, the club in conjunction with the Little Theater gives a Broadway Musical. This year "Annie Get Your Gun" was presented.

The Pep Club

Miss McLennan, Miss Bellios, Kay Tesh, Mrs. Lowder with plans of pep.

A new club this year, the Pep Club brought a spark of spirit and enthusiasm to Broughton students. During football season the club sold programs at the games, made posters for the buses on away games, and made posters advertising games. At each home game the club made a break-through for the team and on Homecoming organized a card section which was a great success. During the whole season the Pep Club added original ideas that helped to make a very successful football season.

Composed of one member from each home-room, the Red Cross meets the first Thursday of each month in room 301. Their project for the year was held in December. Two days were set aside for homerooms to enroll in the National Youth Red Cross, and the enthusiastic reaction to this project made it a success. In the spring plans were made for the summer Red Cross work. This program will be held during the summer, and the purpose of it is to acquaint more teenagers with the activities and opportunities available and to increase participation in Red Cross activities.

OFFICERS: Phyllis Jones, Marilyn Dixon, Margie Williams, Jane Berry, Mrs. Webster (advisor).

SPORTS

Exercising, training, breathing hard, the Broughton athletes prepare. And the cheerleaders practice, and the majorettes. The sports men and women of Broughton are ready. Tonight is the game, the test, the chance to prove accomplishment. They go in, hopeful, to meet the opponents. And then comes action, then sweat, then louder and fiercer yells, then elation. There are injuries and losses and disappointments; the cruel yawns. And there are strength and victories and laughter; the cruel whistles. And always there is sportsmanship, that special kind of clean honesty in body and self.

Cheerleaders

*WHO YA GONNA YELL FOR?
BROUGH-TON HIGH SCHOOL*

And for Broughton High School the 1965-1966 cheerleaders did yell!

Tryouts were held on a competitive basis in the early spring last year with each girl doing two cheers of her choice. The girls were required to have at least an 82.5 average. Mrs. Sandy Baker served as advisor.

The group began its practice the last week in August. Throughout the school year the girls also practiced every Thursday after school.

Cheer Broughton High School

Majorettes

Before school started this year, the marching six were preparing to parade in front of marching band and afternoon the girls practiced so they could stimulate school spirit. Besides marching during halftime at the football games, the majorettes marched in the Homecoming Parade and Christmas Parade.

Craig Barnes on Sports '65-'66

(Editor's note: Craig Barnes formulated the idea of having a Sports Information Director and served in the position for its premier year.)

Broughton's athletic program is outstanding, and this year proved to be no different. The year was filled with its thrills and spills just as any other, but it was an interesting one.

With a 5-2-3 record, Clyde Walker moved through his 11th campaign as head football coach without a losing season. The season was a good one as the Caps defeated Wilmington, Enloe, Wilson, Jacksonville, and Goldsboro. They were beaten by Fayetteville and Durham. Failure to score enough points for victory cost the Caps three ties with Greensboro, Charlotte, and Rocky Mount.

The closing of the season saw several Broughton warriors recognized for their outstanding play. First, John Anderson was chosen to represent Broughton in the Shrine Bowl played in Charlotte. Along with his selection as a participant, Coach Walker was chosen to lead the North Carolina troops. Tat Fearing, a Broughton football manager, was also picked as the Shrine team's manager. When All-East teams were announced, Winkie Silver, Broughton co-captain, was selected as its center and John Anderson as a member of its backfield. Sammy Shaw was also picked on the second team. Anderson and Silver were chosen to play in the East-West contest this summer.

On the junior varsity level, it was an outstanding season as the Broughton J. V.'s rolled over eight straight opponents. The backbone of the club seemed to be its tough defense and prolific offense which rolled against the opposition almost at will.

With the close of football, the basketball season took over and it proved to be an interesting one. The Caps finished the campaign with an 8-13 overall record while they had a 7-10 conference mark. The season saw Broughton play some good basketball and lose some close games in the final minutes.

Recognition was also bestowed on two Cap roundballers. Jimmy Womble was selected as one of the conference's top six stars by the sports writers of the Eastern 4-A while Alan Morrison was picked on the third team.

Basketball also saw the junior varsity gallop through another undefeated season as they mowed down 16 opponents in a row. Led by Sonny Leach, George Rochelle, and Bill Brafford, the Broughton sophomores found rough going in only two games, those being with Wilmington and Durham.

During the basketball campaign, Coach Joel Long was experiencing a very successful year as his wrestlers went undefeated. The Broughton grapplers pinned eleven opponents and made a big move by winning the sectional meet held in Burlington.

Craig Unwin, Tommy Blalock, Jack Corbell, and Nick LoMonte won 11 straight matches while Russell Whitaker reeled off 10 in regular season competition.

Several of the matmen were victorious in the sectionals and advanced to the State Tournament. In the State competition Jack Corbell was a second place winner in his class. The success of this year's wrestling team should make the sport a big hit with Cap fans in the future.

The spring sport season saw the tennis, golf, track, and baseball teams all have a good year. This is the season where individuals stand out.

In tennis it was Ken West. The 6-2 senior was one of the conference's top performers as well as one of the top stars in the State.

In track it was John Rachal and Bill Hamnett. Rachal was the top man in the 440 for Broughton as Hamnett led the hurdlers. The Broughton track men once again participated in the Queen City and Durham Relays, two of the top high school track events in the Southeast.

In baseball Mike Brannan was the top Cap performer. The 6-0 senior was one of the top players in the league and should be a big asset to the Raleigh American Legion team this summer.

The Broughton golfers also had their top stars. Julian Bunn and David Brooks were the outstanding golfers this year.

Overjoyed with their victories and saddened by their defeats, the Broughton athletes of this year have left lasting memories.

FEATURES

The years at Broughton are congested with bright, special features: dances, games, plays, projects. A student can always find something to do. He can direct or decorate, he can sell tickets, he can act or play. And when all the work is done he can smile with pride at these activities, the product of his and other hands.

The classes add their candy and their dinner dances. They choose their prettiest girls to smile for Valentine's and sing to their luminous queens. Together Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors, we danced, we staged to produce plays and projects and assemblies for others, and ourselves, we screamed for students to beat the faculty in our mad March game.

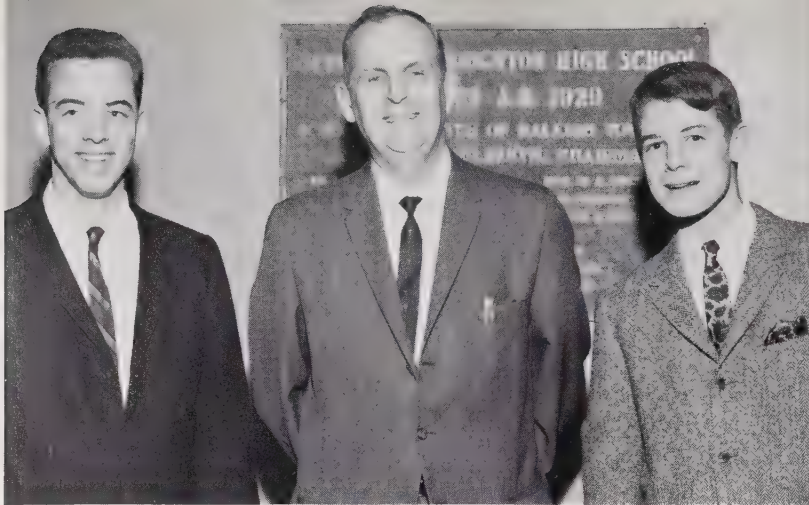

And now we look back at the fun we had and we smile and laugh a little sometimes, or cry a little. Here are the moments of school that hold our hearts now and and again. We will remember.

Kurt Hube, Chairman of Homecoming, sends a sunshine smile along with Mr. Holyfield and Randy Diuguid, Chairman of the parade.

Homecoming—1965

Homecoming came to Broughton with the atmosphere of an enterprising whirlwind. There were mornings spent in collecting and calculating; and cold, dark nights in the garage, hammering, stapling, making flowers, and socializing. October 22, the Big Day, arrived with the sun hidden behind black, thick clouds. Our spirits dampened by the weather, we trudged with upside-down smiles to arrange the remains of our floats. People were marked by their work: damp, stringy hair, and grassy shoes, and the most intolerable inability to study! But as the day advanced, the sun burst through the clouds and smiled warmly on the girls arrayed with lovely corsages made by Betsy Gribble's Hospitality Committee. 3:20 o'clock came: and Kurt "Homecoming" Hube, chairman of Operation Homecoming and Randy "Mr. Sunshine" Diuguid, chairman of the parade, proud and anxious, were directing the preparations amid the mounting anticipation. And here it was: Homecoming—1965. Our caravan of floats left the school to parade proudly for the city of Raleigh. Dusk was settling over the Broughton parking lot as we returned for clean-up. Crowds of people gathered to watch the Caps "cap" the Charlotte Garringer Wildcats. However, we both "left hungry" for victory with the tied score of 14 to 14. The half-time entertainment was thrilling. Our lovely sponsors were presented in a special way, using the contrast of some sponsors of previous years. The winners of the float contest were announced during which time the Broughton Marching Band played while the majorettes performed a unique routine. Then came Saturday night and the Homecoming Dance. Streams of vividly colored crepe paper weaved in and out above our heads while we danced to the sounds of the Nomads from Chapel Hill.

"United Nations Day"

Mr. Peter Beenen, a Broughton social studies teacher, organized a United Nations appreciation program which was presented before the student body on October 29. Elle Smith and Charles Stokes were student chairmen of the project, which included foreign visitors as well as an Honor Guard from North Carolina State University. The Broughton Ensemble and Symphonic Band performed for the event along with forty flag-bearing Broughton students. The solemnity of ceremony, the massive sound of our Pledge of Allegiance and National Anthem, and the sudden closeness of many different nationalities are something to remember.

"Annie Get Your Gun"

"Annie Get Your Gun," produced jointly by the dramatics, music, and art departments of Broughton, was presented on December 10 and 11. The play was full of action—gun-shooting, singing, dancing, and even romance. We'll remember the poise of the cast and, especially, the star-studded ad-lib by Marty Stillpass: "Well, let's get on with the shootin' match before the fog gets any thicker."

Queen of

As strains of "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" began the Queen of Hearts Assembly—1966, twenty-five hundred people were transported to that mystical land at the end of the Rainbow.

Each representative and her escort entered through the Valentine cards in the Hallmark of Hearts to a fanfare. They were introduced by Jack Corbell, announcer, and escorted to their seats to the accompaniment of the Broughton String Ensemble. Each regal seat was placed on the red and white tiered heart in the center of the floor. As Maid Margaret entered in a brilliant red gown and took her place, the crowd was enthralled. And when Queen Linda, escorted by Jim Fontaine, President of the Senior Class, appeared, a reverence was apparent—this was truly our Hallmark of Hearts. From Linda's stunning white gown flowed a lace train carried by two young assistants, Barbara West and Freddie Horton. Ellis Zaytoun, mascot, followed carrying the Queen's crown on a white satin pillow. As Jim placed the crown on our queen and gave her a royal kiss, the school rose and sang to honor the Queen of our hearts.

Hearts—1966

Royal entertainment followed as Susan Davis sang a solo, Patsy Walton danced; the Courtland Four Minus One Plus Two presented a folk song; and The Justice Lee Jug Stompers rendered two lively songs.

All too soon the trip was ended only to be retaken Saturday night at eight o'clock when the dance began. After the presentation, once again we were entertained, this time by Carole Hampton, Ivy Geoghegan, and Thel Boyette performing as a String Trio; Cathy Sterling playing the autoharp and singing; and the Barbara Shop Quintet singing barber shop style.

We danced to the music of the Continentals until eleven o'clock when we had to return from our trip across the Rainbow in our Hallmark of Hearts, but the lingering memories remain. . .

Flashback

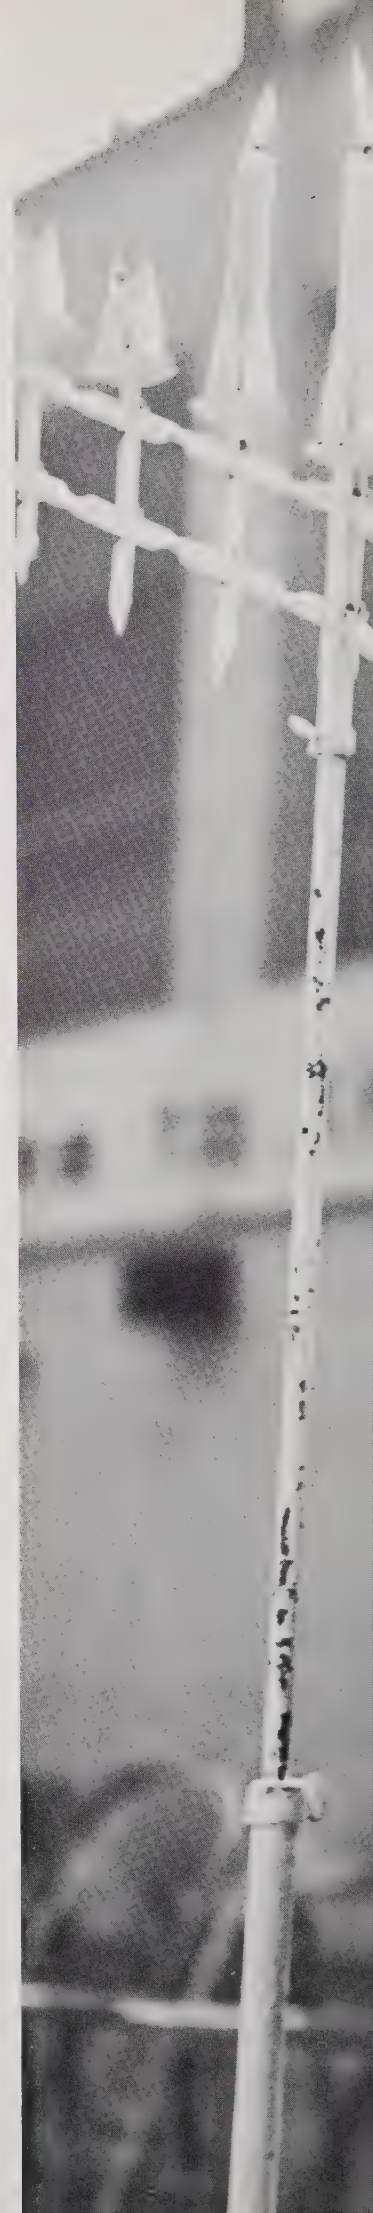

Mirrored here, our faces of before smile; and we know how strange it is to say "remember" of things we were doing just moments ago, to say "past" of this Broughton year that we began so few days ago.

Our eyes fly over the photographs, look for his face or hers. And then we look slowly, gently, with soft sadness or smiles or laughter: the dances, all the ticket sales, plays and games and trophies, projects, homework and classes, concerts and festivals, and all the faces.

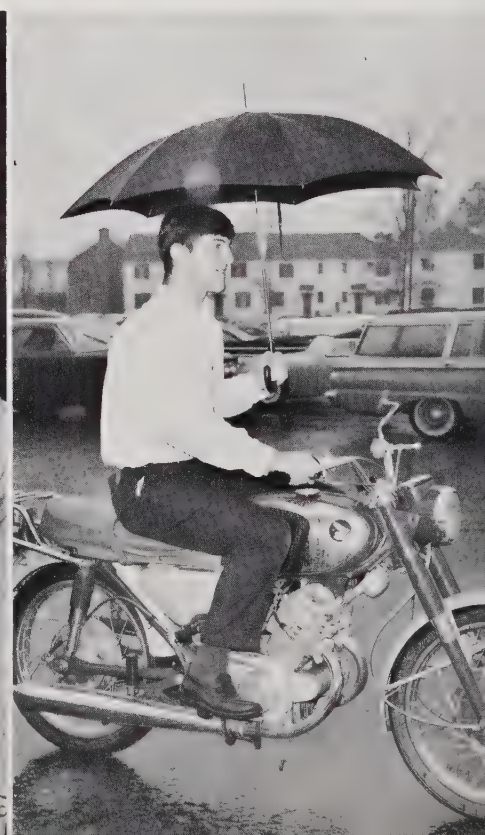

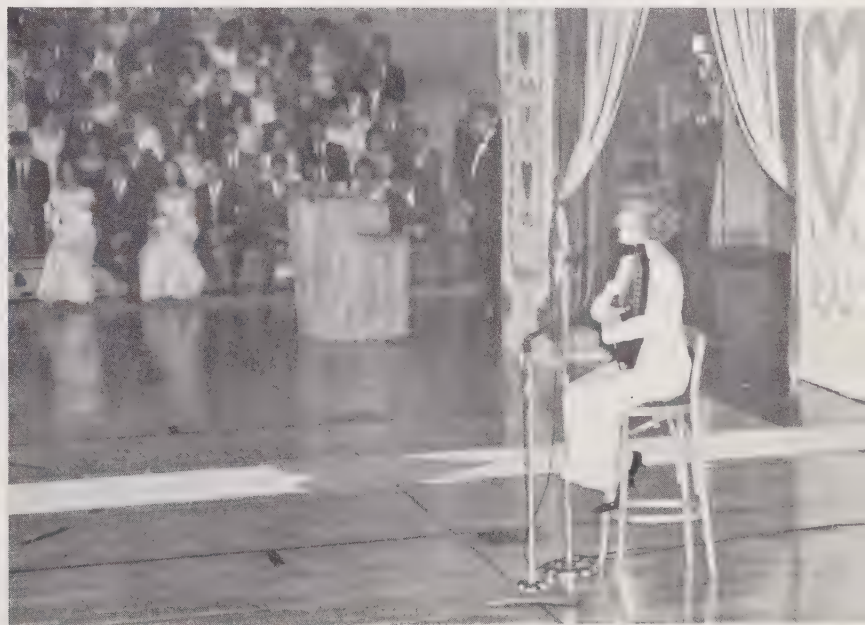

We worked and argued and thought and hoped; we rested and played. And now we remember and look toward summer and the coming memories.

Yesterday

When something is beautiful, you never find the whole of it—only fragments, bits, a shadow. Such are the yesterdays: beautiful, strange, unfamiliar in their innocence, impalpable in their intensity. We have been wandering, you and I, through these pages of yesterdays, wandering through the beginnings of Broughton '65-'66, the massive numbers of us, the mobile units, wandering through feelings: that first assembly when the Seniors walked in and the Juniors and Sophomores were standing, the Alma Mater at football games, the suddenly empty halls at four o'clock, the echo of a locker being closed, eyes meeting—on the verge of understanding. Timebound and ticking, a glassness keeping us enclosed, we approached '65-'66, a school year now escaping. But the fragments, the bits, the shadow remain: the increased number of new teachers, "May I have your attention please for the morning announcements?," the bracing football nights filled with the sounds of "We're from Broughton—Couldn't be prouder!" and "Cheer Broughton High School," the Senior Bar-b-cue ("The only bar-b-cue that's shot from guns!"), the long-awaited-just-in-time Christmas holidays.

And suddenly it was 1966, and the glassness was breaking. If there was a way to remember it all: the crucibles of exams, SNOW—finally and completely (and then those make-up Saturdays), basketball nights of woolly suspense in the Gym cheering for the Caps, various and sundry fire-drills. Then the spring sounds of the orchestra, band, and chorus were here; and there were flowers in our voices and Aprilness in all directions. Spring sports burst into action. Sing Out '66 came to us, and we took pride in the new Miss Raleigh—our own Susan Davis.

Yesterday — when quizzes and lectures and experiments were near us; when we gathered together to dedicate the dogwood trees to the boys fighting in Viet Nam; when the clock moved too slowly it seemed; when we contemplated isosceles trapezoids, life on Walden Pond, morality and the modern concepts, microscopes at large, and the weight of books on the human mind in general. Yesterday was the inertia of plans and elections for the coming year: the new Student Council, course selections, College Day, and for Seniors the final decisions. We will not forget the Student Council-sponsored talent show, or yesterday May, the Senior tour of cap and gown measurements, "Moonlight and Roses" and the Big Weekend, Senior Picnic, and Class Night, a tour of time-stops, isolated against the background of finality.

It has passed quickly, the last moments, graduation, all of it slipping away into shadow. And all of us, all Sophomore, Junior, Senior of us, older now, have only in memory this beautiful, strange year.

Alma Mater, we salute thee
Bounteous giver hear our praise
For within thy walls we've garnered
Gifts enriching all our days
Opportunity for friendship
Guidance in the quest for truth
Faith through all our grave endeavor
Understanding love of youth
These thy gifts O Alma Mater,
We shall cherish through the days
Striving still through high endeavor
Thus to render thee our praise

These are the places where we met after school to eat, to shop, to talk and to relax. There are the people who helped us prepare for our Broughton days and nights. Here we bought our school clothes, our dance dresses and suits, pens and paper and paperback books. We rushed for sales, hurried to get the last copy of that book everyone was buying, and these people tried to help us find what we bought.

We wish to thank the merchants, restaurateurs, businessmen, and theater owners for making our year at Broughton easier, lighter, busier, and happier.

Are You
As
Penny Conscious
As Mary?

To a little girl like Mary a few pennies may seem to be a lot of money. In her world a penny will buy things she wants. Things such as a piece of candy or gum or a balloon.

Mary is penny-conscious. Even so, she may not realize that a penny spent for electricity now will buy more than half again as much electric service as a penny did 25 years ago when her Mom was a little girl. Or that in Carolina she gets more electricity for a penny than most people who live other places in the United States.

The average price which CP&L customers pay for electricity they use in their homes is about 22 percent below the national average.

How has CP&L been able to keep the price of electricity coming down while most other things have been going up? By installing larger, more efficient generating plants; by adopting improved methods of transmitting and distributing electricity; and by working hard to introduce every reasonable economy, so that your penny will buy more.

Editorial

And now it must end: the '65-'66 Broughton chronicle, a flourish of yesterdays, of struggling through homework, of split-moments, of spilt words, of encounter. Now ends the anthology of faces and voices and accomplishments and recollections set on a linotype machine, duplicated, materialized into a turning of pages. Pressed inside time the LATIPAC, with all its revolutions of paper and proportion scales and picture placements, with all its copy and collaboration and deadlines and proofs, again has attempted to measure the dimensions of a year at Broughton High School. And from these dimensions, depths and heights and widths stretched across a clock, comes the Spirit of '66, comes the theme for the LATIPAC. I hope you have found a trace of its translation within these pages, in the hands and names and faces and experiences of this year—a year which now, like a phoenix, has burned to ashes and awaits renewal. I hope you feel a part of the Spirit of '66, a part of the hand and the flame which was the only symbol that could approach its meaning: your hand, reaching out for reality and in the process benefiting Broughton; the flame, supported by all the hands, representing the pride, the enthusiasm, and the enduring potential of the Broughton student.

LATIPAC '66 is something indeed to remember. Layout sheets rustle in my brain. There are the flashbacks of Burnie Batchelor and Jim Coble who came with their great groping lenses and recorded the faces, interpreting some of our moments grand and brief. I will not forget Edwards and Broughton: the sessions with Paul Hoch, who helped the crises pass more easily, who understood, and the efforts of Jeff Hill and Mrs. Vivian Hagwood, who fitted the parts together. Then there was Room 114, my misfit second home, and Miss Paschal, who shaped the rough edges, who gave me life-savers and told me not to worry, who inhaled deeply and endured my mistakes, and who perhaps taught me most decisively that organization is an art in itself. And there were all the people who advised me, who gave their time and effort on the all-important details, who provided ideas, who were, in deed and in fact, the explorers and expanders of the Spirit of '66. Here are some of them:

Judy Litzaw, who from my vague description captured one of my dreams on paper in the form of the title page (bravo to Jim Fontaine for lending a hand), who worked on almost every phase of the LATIPAC's growth; Marcia Koomen, a girl with words, who wrote the introductions for each section and the copy for "Flashback"; Rowena Morrison, who wrote the beginning and ending quotes and the dedication and more importantly was a good listener; Susan Satisky, forever helping me remember to remember something, who wrote the Queen of Hearts copy and who thought up the sharpest picture ideas even on short notice; Janey Jones, always dependable, always willing, who was indispensable on Organizations; Kathy Williams, who worked with the Homecoming write-up as well as the Senior Section; Frankie Arnold, who was a very versatile aid, a reliable source; Anne Turner, who turned out some timely and coherent picture schedules; Craig Barnes, who kept up with the Caps and was always prompt in turning in the material for Sports; Tony Maupin, who drew some memorable lay-outs; Carl Murnick and Carol Hagwood, who sold ads and ads and ads which meant more of "the green."

The journalism classes, who worked on many of the mass problems such as picture identifications and advertising and especially the core journalism class who wrote the copy for Organizations and provided as well a unique working atmosphere; Mrs. Sandling, who was understanding when woe betided; Mrs. Porter's typing classes, who handled a tremendous volume of LATIPAC material; Margie Buford, who supplied her fireplace on a Burnie night; Mr. Holliday and Mr. Holyfield, who wrote just what I wanted without my having told them.

I should also like to thank the teachers who were understanding when some of us were late because of pictures, especially Mrs. Fountain, my homeroom teacher; and also Mrs. Kahdy, who ran off some schedules for me one lonely afternoon. The list doesn't end: Thank you! all you picture-posers and friendly ears who listened to me (often during the midnight oil-burning period) and offered suggestions. And a special thanks to my mother.

And here's to BRYAN GREEN, the real and trueblueGreen hero of LATIPAC '66. He worked continuously with the advertising, selling the most ads and arranging the section as well as acting as photographer, consultant, money maker, lay-out artist, proof-reader, picture proportioner, and idea man. Bryan worked with an efficiency and enthusiasm that spanned the growth of the LATIPAC.

And thus the flame has died down; the glassness, shattered open. "Mission '66" accomplished.

SUE BURROUGHS

Miss Aiken,
I hope you realize how much I have enjoyed this class.
There were other independent study groups, but it was generally agreed that the history was the best.
Although I'm sure part of it was the odd combination of students in it, I'm also sure that a great deal of the class's success had to do with the teacher. Your ideas on conducting the class helped make it interesting and exciting. Although I've always liked history, this year it has grown to have a special meaning for me, and I know I'll look at it differently from now on. Thanks for giving me a new insight. See you next year.
Cathy (Bishop)
